

Teacher Workshops 2014

"ASTRONOMY AND NATURAL SOUNDSCAPES"

OCTOBER 24 AND 25, 2014

Grand Canyon National Park provides an opportunity to stargaze unimpeded by light pollution. Similarly, the park also provides places for people to go and experience soundscapes that are unmarred by human and mechanical noise. Learn more about these topics while exploring the park with guest experts, and learn how to teach these topics to your students.

"ARCHAEOLOGY"

NOVEMBER 14 AND 15, 2014

Stories of Grand Canyon as a sacred home to Native Americans stretch back over 9,000 years. Many of these cultures still thrive today, maintaining deep connections with the land, archaeological sites and artifacts found at the canyon. Learn about past and present cultures from regional experts and new techniques for teaching the topic in your classroom or on field trips.

DETAILS

Participants arrive Friday evening for keynote speaker address. The workshop resumes at 8 am on Saturday and concludes by 4:30 that same afternoon.

A $50 registration fee covers workshop materials and guest speaker fees. Generous private donations to Grand Canyon Association cover Friday night's lodging. Participants receive an entrance fee waiver.

Enrollment is first-come first-served. Registration closes one month prior to the workshop.

Participants receive 9 continuing education credit hours.

TO REGISTER
